History of the University of the Assumption

The University of the Assumption, the first Catholic Archdiocesan University not only in the Philippines but in Asia, began as the Assumption Junior College founded on January 12, 1963. Its coming into existence was made possible by the then bishop of San Fernando, Most Rev. Emilio A. Cinense, D.D., assisted by Msgr. Pedro D. Puno, the Vicar General, in the pursuit of his dream of providing Christian education to the young men and women of Pampanga. The first batch of classes housed at the Assumpta Building in downtown San Fernando was composed of 275 enrollees distributed in four initial degree programs: Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science in Commerce, Bachelor of Science in Education, and Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education. The College was then managed and supervised by Sr. Gunfrida Schneyer, O.S.B., who was also then the Superior of the Community of Missionary Benedictine Sisters of Tutzing (Germany).

In 1965, the College was transferred to its present location at the University Site Subdivision, Del Pilar, City of San Fernando. In the same year, the Institution was granted government recognition as Assumption College of Pampanga. In the following year, the College conferred bachelor's degrees on its first batch of "Magnificent Seven" graduates on the occasion of its first Commencement Exercises.

In 1967, the Grade and High Schools were put up. The Dominican Sisters of Our Lady of Remedies assisted in the supervision of both schools under the leadership of their Superior Sr. Mary Philip Ryan, O.P (Adrian, Michigan, USA).

The Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering was added to the roster of programs in 1969. It was in 1974 when a total of seven programs expanded such roster including the master's degree in Education with three specializations. These programs were: Bachelor of Science in Nursing; Bachelor of Science in Nutrition and Dietetics; Bachelor of Science in Industrial Engineering; and Bachelor of Science in Architecture; Master of Arts in Education with majors in Community Development, Educational Administration, and Guidance and Counseling. Government recognition of the master's program was granted by the Ministry of Education, Culture and Sports in 1980.

The greatest leap of the Academe was the change of its status from a College to a University, granted on March 19, 1980 by the Ministry of Education, Culture, and Sports, the first Catholic educational institution in Region III to become a university. It came about as a result of the continuing efforts of delivering outstanding academic and community services by the Institution. Renamed University of the Assumption, the Institution soon became the center for various regional services and task forces. It became the Regional Staff Development Center, Nutrition Center, decentralized Learning Resource Center, and Educational Development Project Implementing Task Force in Region III. These made the University even more immersed in community service, especially when it launched its Outreach Ministry Program soon after its elevation into a university.

In the succeeding years, additional undergraduate and graduate programs were established to make educational services more responsive to society's changing demands. These programs were Master in Public Administration, Bachelor of Science in Hotel and Restaurant Management, Bachelor of Arts majors in Social Work, and in Philosophy, Bachelor of Science in Commerce major in Computer Science, and Master of Arts in Education majors in Early Childhood, in Mathematics, in English, in Physical Education, and in Teaching Filipino. Notably, on June 13, 1988, the Department of Education, Culture, and Sports granted the University the permit to offer Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Educational Management. This post graduate program was converted into Doctor of Philosophy major in Educational Management in 1999 with the approval of the Commission on Higher Education.

In 1990, Bachelor of Science in Accountancy was offered. Then in 1998, Mass Communication and Interior Design were added among the major disciplines under the College of Liberal Arts. In the same year, the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) granted the University the permission to convert AB major in Social Work into a straight program, Bachelor of Science in Social Work.

The institution's natural dynamism and unwavering commitment to quality and relevant education pushed it toward the opening of new programs to cater to the emerging needs of the community. In August 2005, CHED approved the University's application to offer Bachelor of Science in Biology, and Bachelor of Science in Mathematics effective school year 2006-2007. Likewise, the Bachelor of Science in Computer Engineering, Bachelor of Science in Office Management, and Master of Arts in Theological Studies had been granted permission to operate effective the same school-year.

In 2007, the Master of Arts in Education major in Guidance and Counseling program was renamed Master of Arts in Guidance and Counseling making it an independent program. From 2008 to 2012, UA added to its roster of active programs: Bachelor of Arts in Communication; Bachelor of Science in Psychology; Bachelor of Science in Accounting Technology; Bachelor of Science in Computer Engineering, Bachelor of Science in Information Technology, Bachelor of Science in Tourism Management, Bachelor of Elementary Education major in Special Education, and Bachelor of Science in Electronic Engineering.

Meanwhile, changes in the educational landscape of the country brought about by the advent of the K-12 Curriculum drove the University to offer new programs in the college level in anticipation of the emerging needs of the Senior High School graduates. Three degree programs were added to its list: the BLIS or the Bachelor of Library and Information Science (with the Government Permit issued on November 2, 2017), the BS Pharma or the Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy (with Government Permit given on January 4, 2018), and the BHumServ or Bachelor in Human Services (with Government Permit released on January 5, 2018).

As the University expands in terms of academic offering, it ensures its clientele of its continuing quest for excellence guided by its vision-mission and goals. Propelled by great aspiration, UA has been subjecting itself to voluntary accreditation with the highly prestigious Philippine Accrediting Association of Schools, Colleges and Universities (PAASCU) as its partner agency. After years of consistent provision of quality education, the Elementary and the Secondary Education (Junior High School) programs were granted Level III accredited status in December 2016 and May 2017, respectively. In the collegiate level, six (6) of the 19 programs have been granted Level II Re-accredited status. These are BS Nursing, AB Communications, BS Psychology, Bachelor of Elementary Education, Bachelor of Secondary Education, and BS Business Administration. Meanwhile, the Master of Arts in Education and the Doctor of Philosophy major in Educational Management have been certified in 2018 with an initial accredited status. The rest of the degree programs are either moving toward the applicant status for voluntary accreditation or are held on consistent rigid process of quality shaping and checking to prepare them for possible certification of excellence nationally and internationally.

In 2018, the University implemented vertical articulation of its graduate and undergraduate programs toward the establishment of seamless curricula.

The COVID-19 pandemic that hit the world in 2020 turned out to be a catalyst as it led the University to proactively shift to remote learning to continue providing quality and relevant education to the students, while upholding their safety and health. This learning continuity initiative was made possible through the creation of the UA-FLEX (UA Flexible Learning Experience).

As part of its curriculum re-engineering in 2023, the University integrated the six charisms of its Founder as basis for re-identifying its core values and realigning relevant learning outcomes with the UA-VMG. In the same year, the Bachelor of Science in Criminology was included in the roster of undergraduate programs after being granted permit to operate in July 2023, thus expanded UA's mission to the formation of future law enforcers.

Alongside these continuing efforts of gaining the seal of excellence in all its programs, the University endeavors to consistently strengthen its research culture and community extension services. The University believes in its role as a Catholic institution in serving as Arm of the Church in promoting the faith and in spreading love and service to the now borderless global community. Its commitment to Catholic education as its founders envisioned remains imbedded in its vessels. As a University, UA shall continue to uphold the same vision in developing the young men and women of Pampanga, of the country, and of the world.

GRADUATE ATTRIBUTES

The Assumption graduate attributes represent the target outcomes or the expected characteristics that every Assumptionist should manifest during and after being formed and educated at UA. Expressed in more specific terms, the attributes serve to clearly convey to students the standards with which to gauge their success and that of the institution in effecting quality education that is uniquely Assumption. These attributes are consciously integrated in day to day instruction.

The ideal UA graduates are:

BIASA (academically competent),

MAGANACA (morally upright),

MAYAP (socially responsible)

Please see the desired Institutional Outcomes under each Graduate Attribute

UA Logo

The dominant figure in the seal is the torch. This symbolizes EDUCATION – the core of the academic community and the very reason for its existence. Assumptionist education is envisioned to be enlightening, liberating, transforming and edifying. It brings out the best in the human being and purifies him with Christian virtues, of faith, hope, charity and other fruits of a truly Catholic training, thus, the blazing rays of the torch.

In these rays can be seen the formation of the cross, symbolic of the University as a Christian Catholic Archdiocesan Educational Institution, a status unique to Assumption, not only in the Philippines but in the whole of Asia. Thriving under the shadow and light of this timeless mark of Christianity, UA is destined to follow the paradoxical logic of new beginnings from endings, possibilities from limitations.

The torch is on top of a mountain, from either side of which can be seen lines that level off. This mountain is Mt. Arayat, the most prominent natural landmark in the province. Its visibility from all corners of Central Luzon, coupled with the symbolism posed by the two descending lines, implies the vast geographical area within which the University's influence is aimed to be felt in the years ahead. UA seeks to serve, not only Pampanga, but the contiguous provinces of the region, including Aurora, Bataan, Bulacan, Nueva Inscribed inside the seal are three Latin words: Scientia, Virtus and Communitas. This trilogy summarizes the vision-mission of the University: Scientia, for Quality and Excellence in Academic Programs; Virtus, for Human Development and Christian Formation; and Communitas, for Church Participation and Community Service. Knowledge must lead to virtue. Knowledge and virtue must ultimately lead to community service.

There are two main lines running through the figure: royal blue and fire red. Blue symbolizes the Marian character: Mary will always be the mother of the Assumption family in the Christian community; while Red signifies the University's intense commitment to the goals and objectives of the Department of Education, (DepEd.) and the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) in regional and national development.

The red line forms U: University, while the blue line forms A: Assumption. Since her elevation to University status in 1980, University of the Assumption has become the official name of the school, superseding other names used in the past, notably Assumption Junior College (at the time of founding in 1963) and Assumption College of Pampanga (1965-1980). This name appears in the upper portion of the seal's outer rim. In the lower part of the same rim is the University's address: City of San Fernando, Pampanga, Philippines.

Nestling the whole logogram is a yellow gold base. This represents the Church, the University's source of inspiration and the foundation of her strength in the apostolate of educating the youth of the land.

A rope enriches the whole emblem. This signifies the quintessence of solidarity that binds all members of the UA community in the goal of building a better and greater Assumption, not only today but also to the next millennium. Together, administrators, faculty members, personnel and students share in the collective vision of transforming the University into a major vehicle of change and progress as she continues to serve God and society by way of education.

CHAPTER 3ACADEMIC POLICIES*Section 1. Class Attendance

Upon registration, students are expected to attend their scheduled classes regularly and promptly. Punctual attendance at class meetings supports the academic development of students. Hence, the University expects students to take the responsibility of attending classes and to make the necessary arrangement with faculty members regarding missed course work.

- 1.1. Students are required to attend the first day of classes of each term. Faculty members shall make certain that students are oriented with class attendance policies and other academic requirements on the first day of class.
- 1.2. Class hours lost by late enrollment of students are considered as absences.
- 1.3. Students shall make every effort to be on time for class. They are expected to be inside the classroom before the start of class sessions. A count of tardiness shall be recorded if students enter the class 15 minutes from the start of class sessions. Three counts of tardiness shall be considered as one unexcused absence.
- 1.4. Faculty members are expected to start their class on time. In case a faculty member does not come fifteen minutes after the bell has rung, students shall be allowed to leave their classroom.
- 1.5. Students are expected to attend all scheduled class exercises and activities. They are held responsible for all matters taken and assignments given in their absence.
- 1.6. Failure to attend the class shall be marked as an absence. An absence may be considered "excused" or "unexcused" depending on the validity of reasons, as determined by the faculty member and dean. Instances like prolonged illness and other highly justifiable reasons such as, but not limited to practicum, school representations, school activities and meetings shall be considered "excused" absences. An excuse letter for absence in class with the signature of the student and a parent/guardian should be submitted to the Dean for approval. The approved letter shall be presented to the student's professors for purposes of late compliance with missed class requirements during the day/s of absence.

- 1.7. Excessive absences in class deter the academic growth of students. Students with excessive absences of more than 20% of the prescribed number of class or laboratory hours will be given UD until the midterm examination and FA until the final period in any course as illustrated below:

1.7.1. Lecture subjects

Lecture Courses - credit units	Total no. of Lecture class hrs/sem	No. of hrs of absence (to be marked UD or FA)
1	18	4
2	36	8
3	54	12
4	72	16
5	90	19

1.7.2. Laboratory courses

Lab Courses - credit units	Total no. of Lab class hrs/sem	No. of hrs of absence (to be marked UD or FA)

Section 2. Examinations

- 2.1. Assessment of students' academic performance is vital to their academic progress. Students are required to take three major examinations every semester. These consist of a preliminary, midterm and final examination appropriately scheduled by the Office of the Vice-President for Academic Affairs.
- 2.2. In order to be admitted to a major examination, students must settle their school fees and secure an examination permit (for prelims/midterm) and a clearance (for final examination) at the Finance Office. The examination permit/clearance must be noted and signed by the instructor/professor of each subject during the examination.
- 2.3. In the event that a student fails to settle school fees for a specific term/period, he/she shall secure an Account Balance Report at the Finance Office and submit a promissory note duly signed by parents and respective dean to the Office of the Vice-President for Finance for approval. Once approved, the promissory note shall be presented to the teacher before students are given the examination.
- 2.4. A student who missed a scheduled major examination due to illness, death of an immediate family member; attendance in official school activities and other valid reasons, may be given a special examination within 5 weeks after the schedule of the missed Pre-lim examination and Mid term examination as approved by the College Dean.

Section 3. Credits and Units

- 3.1 In general, the number and length of class meetings per week in a semester shall be based on the number of credits assigned to a subject. Thus, one unit of credit is equivalent to one hour lecture or recitation, or three hours of laboratory, drafting or shop work each week for the entire semester

Section 4. Grading System

- 4.1. Students' academic performance at the end of each term shall be expressed by marks as specified in the numerical grading system adopted by the University. The meaning and equivalent values of these marks are presented in Table 1 and Table 2 - Numerical Grading Systems AY 2025-2026.

Table 1. Old Numerical Grading System (for fourth and fifth year students)

Percentage Equivalent	Numerical Equivalent	Letter	Remarks
95 - 100%	1.0	A+	Excellent
93 - 94%	1.3	A	Very Superior
90 - 92%	1.5	A-	Superior
88 - 89%	1.8	B+	Very Good
85 - 87%	2.0	B	Good
83 - 84%	2.3	B-	Very Satisfactory

78 - 79%	2.8	C	Fair
75 - 77%	3.0	C-	Passed
Below 75%	5.0	F	Failed

Table 2. New Numerical Grading System for College Freshmen effective 1st semester 2023-2024. (for first, second and third year students)

Percentage Equivalent	Numerical Equivalent	Letter	Remarks
98 - 100%	1.0	A+	Excellent
95 - 97%	1.3	A	Very Superior
92 - 94%	1.5	A-	Superior
89 - 91%	1.8	B+	Very Good
86 - 88%	2.0	B	Good

77 - 79%	2.8	C	Fair
75 - 76%	3.0	C-	Passed
Below 75%	5.0	F	Failed

- 4.2. Grades shall be computed using the following formulas:

Preliminary Grade:

$$\frac{(\text{Class standing} \times 2) + \text{Prelim Examination Rating}}{3}$$

Midterm Grade:

$$\frac{(\text{Class standing} \times 2) + \text{Midterm Examination Rating}}{3}$$

Partial Final Grade:

$$\frac{\text{Class standing} + (\text{Final Examination Rating} \times 2)}{3}$$

Final Grade:

$$\frac{\text{Preliminary Grade} + \text{Midterm Grade} + \text{Partial Final Grade}}{3}$$

Note: Class standing is the sum total of recitation, quizzes, assignments, term papers, projects and other outputs relevant to the course as prescribed by the faculty member and approved by the dean. Attendance does not form part of the student's grade for a course.

- 4.3. The computation of grades shall be based on a transmutation table (Appendix 2 - Transmutation Table). In general, students except those enrolled in BS Nursing (BSN) and BS Pharmacy (BSP) programs must obtain 60% of the total score in order to get the lowest passing grade of 75%. In the BSN and BSP programs, 65% of the total score is equivalent to 75% (see Appendix 17- BS Nursing and BS Pharmacy Transmutation Table).

- 4.4 General Weighted Average (GWA) is an indication of a student's academic achievement for an academic semester/term.

The GWA is computed by:

- Multiplying the numerical grades earned per course with the course's credit units
- Adding these products and dividing the result by the total number of units taken during the academic semester/term
- Grades in NSTP 1 and NSTP 2 are not included in the computation of the GWA.
- The GWA is rounded to two decimal places .

- 4.5 Grade Point Average (GPA) is an indication of a student's academic achievement for all course grades and is calculated across the total period of study in a curricular program.

The GPA is computed by:

- Multiplying the numerical grades earned per course with the course's credit units
- Adding these products and dividing the result by the total number of units taken during the period of study in the curriculum
- Grades in NSTP 1 and NSTP 2 are not included in the computation of the GPA.
- The GPA is rounded to two decimal places.

- 4.6. Besides the marks presented in Section 4.1, the following marks have “No Credit” and may appear in the semestral copy of grades.

4.6.1. Officially Dropped (OD)

An “OD” may be assigned when a student officially drops from a course for which he/she is registered with permission of Faculty Member, Dean and Registrar; prescribed procedure for dropping a course is followed (duly approved dropping form is submitted to the University Registrar) on the third week from the start of classes until before the mid-term examination.

4.6.2. Unofficially Dropped (UD)

A “UD” may be given when a student unofficially drops from a course for which he/she is registered without permission of Faculty Member, Dean and Registrar; prescribed procedure for dropping a course is not followed (duly approved dropping form is not submitted to the University Registrar) until the Mid-term examination.

4.6.3. Failure due to Absences (FA)

An “FA” may be assigned when a student has obtained excessive absences in a semester until the Final period (see Section 1.5 on Class Attendance).

4.6.4. Incomplete Grade (INC)

An “INC” may be issued when a student fails to complete the required final examination or final coursework in a course. Completion is allowed to students who failed to take the final examination during the prescribed schedule or failed to submit the final requirement such as feasibility study, thesis, architectural plate and other related final requirements for a subject due to prolonged sickness and other highly justifiable reasons such as but not limited to school representations, school activities and meetings. Students who failed to comply with class standing requirements and missed to take the pre-lim and midterm exams are not to be given INC as final grade. They should comply with the pre-lim or midterm class standing deficiency or take the prelim or midterm exam within 5 weeks after the scheduled day of compliance of the class standing requirement or the exam as approved by the Dean.

For the approval of the Academic Chair, Dean and the Vice-President for Academic Affairs, the Certificate of Completion should be supported by the following:

- a.) Photocopy of the Class Record with the Prelim Grade, Midterm Grade, Partial Final Grade and the Final Grade and
- b.) Completion Requirement.

Pre-requisite courses are necessary for enrollment in advance courses. Completion in pre-requisite courses should be done prior to the enrollment of advance courses in the succeeding semester.

Though as a general rule, completion should be made within a year following the academic year the incomplete grade was obtained. Failure to comply with the prescribed requirements within the completion period of one year shall mean a failing final grade of 5.0 (60).

- 4.7. Colleges/schools shall conduct a deliberation before the encoding of grades from first to fourth/ fifth year levels. The deliberation shall be conducted by the Dean, together with the academic chair of the program, and all faculty members handling classes of students.
- 4.8. Students are responsible for ascertaining their general academic performance periodically and especially at the end of each semester. They should ensure that they have taken and passed all required courses towards the completion of their degrees. They should regularly review their Individual Program of Study/Credit Evaluation in the SERP to ensure that they do not lack any courses for them to graduate on time. If courses are not yet listed as “passed” on the SERP but the student believes he/she has already passed the said courses, the student should immediately report to the Office of the University Registrar.
- 4.9. Students who wish to petition for a change in the grade given by their instructors/ professors may file a written complaint addressed to the Dean of the college/school within the week after students’ grades have been made available. The Dean shall require concerned faculty member to present an explanation elaborating the bases for arriving at the academic standing of the student. If a miscalculation has been committed and verified, the dean shall take appropriate action within a week after the faculty member has been asked to present his/her bases for grading. Correction of grade is allowed within a year of enrolment in a course.

UA RULES AND REGULATIONS

Section 1. Rationale

Assumptionists are trained to follow rules not out of fear of authority or penalties, but out of a sense of responsibility, self-respect, and respect for others. Observance of University policies creates a safe, orderly, and learning-conducive environment. This aligns with CHED CMO No. 9, s. 2013, which frames student discipline as formative, just, and respectful of due process. The goal is to promote student well-being and ensure that rules and services not only maintain order but also provide psychosocial support, uphold human dignity, and foster holistic development.

Violations of rules diminish one's character and may deprive others of their right to study peacefully. Every action impacts the community, and therefore, social responsibility must be embraced. The University upholds standards of behavior that promote peace, order, and discipline, with the Office of Student Affairs guiding students toward responsible citizenship and professional readiness.

Note: The University upholds student discipline guided by the 1987 Philippine Constitution and other relevant national laws, ensuring that all disciplinary processes are just, respectful of rights, and supportive of student well-being.

CHAPTER 9

INSTRUCTIONAL POLICIES

Section 1. The Class Period

- 1.1 A class period refers to the specific time allotted for a particular subject as reflected in the teacher and class programs.
- 1.2 The teacher is expected to be in his/ her classroom when the class period starts with all the needed instructional aids on hand. He/ she teaches for the full duration of the class period. The teacher should be in the classroom during any form of class activity like seat work, group dynamics, reporting, etc. except when requested/ required to attend official school functions.
- 1.3 In fairness to the class that follows, a teacher dismisses his/ her class punctually. He/ she makes it ready for the next class by seeing to it that the whiteboards are clean and chairs are arranged, and the room is free from litter.
- 1.4 Visitors are not allowed inside a classroom. To avoid unnecessary disruption of classes, conferring with visitors is allowed only outside class hours.

Section 2. Teaching Methodology

- 2.1 The teacher and the students are partners in the teaching-learning enterprise, each with distinct role to play. In the delivery of instruction, no uniform teaching method can be prescribed. Methods are tools for teaching. The teacher therefore must equip himself/ herself with the varied teaching tools for use in different situations in order to optimize students' learning, creating a mutuality of interaction between the teacher and the students, and among the students themselves.
- 2.2 Although no single teaching methodology is prescribed, the method used by the teacher should promote higher order thinking skills, and should allow students to question theories and air their opinions courteously. The teacher should use strategies that would provide avenues for the integration of Christian and social values held by the University, and promote community service/ social awareness and transformation. It should also be research-based and should train students to engage in quality research work.
- 2.3 Mastery of subject matter is a pre-requisite to good teaching. The teacher can be effective if he / she is an authority on the subject he / she is teaching and consistently updates himself/ herself on changes/ progress being made on his/her subject.

- 2.4 Adjustment of the method of teaching to the level of understanding of the majority of the students is a sound educational practice. But this does not mean compromising academic excellence but seeking alternative methods to bring out the best in the students. Determining the entry level of the students and making the necessary adjustments likewise facilitate learning toward academic excellence. The teacher should realize that students' potentialities are greater than what can be perceived. Therefore, he/ she continuously uses strategies to motivate and sustain students' interest so as to maximize their capabilities for learning.
- 2.5 A teacher faced with average or below average students attempts to make them achieve maximally through such means as remedial classes and provision of special lessons without any special fee. He/ she acknowledges differences in learning styles and the need to tap their multiple intelligences.
- 2.6 Educational field trips prescribed by the curriculum are conducted preferably during non-class days to prevent students from missing their other academic classes. Such field trips need the approval of the College Dean and the VPAA. Parent Consent Slip/Notarized Affidavit of Consent, copies of which may be secured from the DSA, is signed by the parents and then submitted to the teacher in- charge of the trip.

Section 3. Classroom Management

- 3.1. At the beginning of the semester/ school year, the teacher gives orientation to acquaint the students of the course syllabus/ outline, classroom policies, pertinent provisions of the Student Manual, use of the library, etc.
- 3.2. Maintenance of discipline in the classroom is the teacher's responsibility. The teacher is presumed to have read and understood the Student Manual to be able to exercise school discipline effectively. Any major breach of discipline as defined in the Student Manual is promptly reported to the Dean and the Director of Student Affairs.
- 3.3. The teacher is a person in authority, hence, students are expected to obey and respect him/ her. In turn, the teacher respects the worth and dignity of the students as human persons and conducts himself/ herself in a manner deserving respect.
- 3.4. The teacher should admit to his /her class only the students who are enrolled and have settled their outstanding financial obligations with the university.

Section 4. Policies on Examination Papers and Grading Sheets

- 4.1 Examination scores form a major area in grading students' performance. Therefore, examinations must be well-designed. A standard two-way Table of Specifications is required for major examinations and must be submitted

- and subjected to scrutiny by academic chairs/ coordinators, deans, principals and other concerned academic authorities prior to the administration of the test.
- 4.2 Teachers are accountable for preserving the integrity of any type of tests or examinations.
- 4.3 Honesty and integrity during examinations are evidence of the students' strength of character.
- 4.4 Temptations to dishonesty can be avoided if a teacher personally administers the examinations. Only under unavoidable circumstances and with the knowledge and approval of the Dean concerned may a teacher have a substitute to administer the test for him / her.
- 4.5 Duly corrected examination papers (especially departmentalized test papers) may be shown to students for re-checking, but may not be returned to them permanently to preserve the usefulness of the items for future utilization.
- 4.6 Three copies of the grading sheets shall be prepared for submission to the Dean and the University Registrar with the duly accomplished faculty clearance one week after the last day of the final examination. The third copy is intended for the teacher for record purposes.

Section 5. Grading Systems

Please refer to section 4 for the Old College Grading System for upper classmen and the New Grading System for freshmen.

- 5.1 The teacher informs the students about the grading system and the requirements of the course on the first-class meeting.
- 5.2 Grading-related policies unique to particular programs are contained in respective departmental brochures, or student handbook, or other similar documents
- 5.3 The students are informed of their grades one week after the prelim and midterm examinations. Consolidated copy of final grades is provided to students on the second week after final examinations. Grades submitted by the teacher to the dean and to the registrar are final.

CHAPTER 10ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND AUXILIARY SERVICES*Section 1. Office of Student Affairs

1.1. The Office of Student Affairs (OSA) of the University of the Assumption provides a comprehensive support system anchored on the University's vision and mission. It aims to serve the UA studentry through the conduct of co-curricular and extra-curricular activities focused on the formation of Christian values expressed in self-management and discipline, leadership, the performing arts, intra and interpersonal relations, and in promoting health and fitness through sports.

1.1.1. Self-management and Discipline

The Office maintains the general discipline and conduct of students inside and outside the classrooms, and where and when applicable, even outside the University. It coordinates with the University President, Vice President for Administration, Vice President for Academic Affairs, Vice President for Finance, deans, principals and security personnel regarding student discipline. It seeks to care rather than correct students for unfriendly behavior and sees to it that the Student Handbook guidelines are observed through the worthy task of the Prefect of Discipline.

1.1.2. Student Leadership and Organizations

The OSA is also responsible for providing meaningful opportunities for students to hone their leadership potentials. The Office encourages and guides students in establishing "self-government" and practice the basic functions of management (planning, organizing, controlling, leading, and achieving) through their active membership in different recognized school organizations (RSO).

1.1.3. Intra and Interpersonal Relations

Fully mindful of its responsibility in developing the full potential of the individual, OSA, together with the Prefect of Discipline (College, HS and GS) and coordinators for student activities (Adviser of the Supreme Councils – College, HS and GS), implements a comprehensive student development program to help students develop: deep sense of responsibility, self-understanding, decision-making skills, human relations skills, and educational and career motivations.

1.1.4. Scholarship Program and Student Assistance

The Student Scholarship Program gives opportunities to needy yet academically capable young men and women to pursue academic programs through tuition fee discounts from the University and from the assistance of the alumni and friends of the UA Community, companies, government agencies and foundations. These activities are coordinated through the Scholarship and Grants In-charge.

Aside from University funded scholarship, OSA, through the Recognized Student Organizations (college based), have allotted funds for the Adopt-A-Scholar Program.

1.2. Goals and Objectives

The OSA aims to ultimately produce integrally formed Christian professionals and leaders who are educated, adaptive, dynamic, self-forming, self-disciplined, and responsible citizens of the nation through the provision of balance learning opportunities to students in an atmosphere of order, peace, and safety. Specifically, the Office seeks to:

- a. instill among Assumptionists the core Christian values of love, peace, respect, mutual trust, sense of justice and obedience as they actively engage in the different co-curricular and extra-curricular activities;
- b. develop students' leadership skills, self-discipline, sense of order and safety, dynamism and adaptive skills as they maintain balance between their academic and non-academic undertakings; and,
- c. promote students' ethical behavior and sense of propriety, self-forming and relational skills, and deep sense of responsibility as they relate with fellow students and other members of the Academe in performing their respective tasks as officers and/ or members of recognized school organizations.

1.3. Strategies

The set objectives will be realized through various services classified into three:

1.3.1. Preventive Mechanisms

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. "This principle applied in discipline aims to lessen, if not to totally eradicate, untoward incidents involving students, and control possible or foreseen misdemeanor/ misconduct. Guarding and redirecting potential offenders or guiding and monitoring the majority are the best ways. The following strategies are implemented:

- a. Screening – Interview of incoming students
- b. Orientation, Re-orientation and Information Dissemination
- c. Casual or Purposive Observation and Regular Monitoring
- d. Interaction with the students
- e. Solicitation of Feedback, Comments and Suggestions
- f. Coordination with the " elders " of school and home
- g. Research
- h. Group Dynamics; e.g. seminars, fora & film viewing

1.3.2. Reinforcers

By affirming noteworthy decorum of students manifested by their behavior on and off campus, it is expected that such will be maintained or will improve further. While those being appreciated keep on proving their worth, the rest are challenged to work out for the better. The following strategies are implemented:

- a. Commendations and Recognition
- b. Modeling
- c. Contests

1.3.3. Remedial Measures

The Office also shows responsibility and responsiveness especially by “making the wounded whole again”. Those reported, referred or directly caught of misconduct, must never be ignored. Whether or not the offense is serious, an appropriate action shall be imposed after thorough deliberation. The important point is that the individual needs to be directed to accept his/her fault and limitations face his/ her accountability and learn from it, thereby helping him/ her start anew. The following strategies are implemented:

- a. Due Process
- b. Investigation, Dialogue and Conference
- c. Sanctions as stipulated in the Student Manual
- d. Direct Counseling
- e. Alternative Discipline, e.g. community service
- f. Referral for Guidance and Counseling
- g. Follow-up

1.4. Allied Services

The following services strengthen the fundamental areas of concern, making the whole scheme complete:

- a. Legal Consultation
- b. Review, Revision or Proposal of Policies
- c. Visitation and Observation of Discipline-Oriented Schools
- d. Attend/Conduct Seminars or Trainings
- e. Issuance of Clearance/Permits
- f. Lost and Found Monitoring
- g. Home Visitation
- h. Promotion and Maintenance of Peace and Order on Campus

Section 2. Office of the Prefect of Discipline

Founded on the University's VMG, the Office of the Prefect of Discipline assists the OSA in cultivating the students' sense of responsibility and self-discipline, and in promoting, attaining, and preserving orderliness, propriety, respect, rational and responsible freedom, harmony and peace principally within the University in which the immediate social environment is found.

Where and when there is opportunity, the OSA leaders, together with the significant “elders” both in school and at home ensure that the Assumptionists are assisted in their struggle to develop into persons of worth. By way of guiding and guarding students' perceptions, choices, decisions and behavior, they are properly led to make up a community where they create a lasting and positive impact. While being trained in school, they begin to take part in their lifetime commitment to make social change happens. Their mission begins by turning discipline from policy into an attitude and a way of life.

Section 3. CHARISM

Center for the Holistic Advancement of Religious Instruction, Spirituality, and Mission (CHARISM)

The Center for the Holistic Advancement of Religious Instruction, Spirituality, and Mission (CHARISM) is a member of the President's Cluster. It serves as the University's hub for faith formation, integrating theology, pastoral care, worship, and social engagement. Its organizational framework is anchored on three core components: the Heritage, Education, and Apostolic Doctrine (H.E.A.D. - Scientia) (Catholicity and Excellence), the Healing, Evangelization, Adoration, Renewal, and Transformation (H.E.A.R.T. – Virtus) (Values and Relationship), and the Humanitarian Action for Nurturing Development and Solidarity (H.A.N.D.S. — Communitas) (Leadership and Mission), each entrusted to a designated Servant Leader.

A special mandate under CHARISM is the Assumption Liturgical Team for Animation, Ritual, and Evangelization (ALTARE), which serves as the University's central commission for planning, coordinating, and evaluating liturgical activities. Anchored in the principle of Catholicity and Excellence, HEAD is responsible for deepening the University community's understanding of the Catholic faith through systematic theological instruction, catechesis, and doctrinal formation.

As the intellectual arm of CHARISM, HEAD integrates Theology as a core subject in the University curriculum. Through the Theology program, students are provided with opportunities to study, reflect on, and apply the teachings of the Catholic faith, ensuring that academic pursuit is always in dialogue with faith and tradition.

HEAD likewise safeguards the University's Catholic heritage by promoting fidelity to the Magisterium, upholding the values of the Assumptionist charism, and nurturing a community that witnesses to truth, integrity, and academic excellence. "BLENding Education: Responding to the Post-Pandemic Social Innovation"

PROLOGUE

The University of the Assumption Flexible Learning Experience (UA-FLEX) series is our proactive response to the ever-changing demands of learning and living. We engage our community to be adaptive and dynamic with our dedication to realizing our vision to become the leading formator of academically and globally competent Catholic leaders who are spiritually well-grounded, morally upright, and socially responsible.

In the emergence of the imperatives of 21st-century competence, global sustainability, social innovation, the Fourth Industrial Revolution, and the post-pandemic norms, UA remained steadfast in keeping its curricular programs abreast with the times.

Blended Learning is an instructional model that fuses face-to-face teaching-learning interaction and online self-directed learning (Tahir et al., 2022; Arney, 2015; Garrison & Vaughan, 2008). Even before the COVID-19 pandemic, blended learning has been considered an educational innovation since the internet boom in the 90s. This global health crisis obviously forced schools to go flexible at all levels, thus, the UA-FLEX. In the last two years, we have been involved in online distance learning as the sole means to deliver instruction. Now that we are about to get liberated from the restrictions of the pandemic, we gradually open our gates to the usual face-to-face instruction and bring back the optimal social innovation we missed for two years.

In 2020 when we were forced to close the portals of the university campus and thrive on home-based instruction, UA-FLEX was born to continue learning. We entirely relied on online distance instruction and home-based learning the following year.

Conventionally, blended learning is observed as an innovation of face-to-face instruction by adding portions of online distance learning to the regular program. This year is the other way around. We intend to enrich ODL by adding face-to-face modalities.

UA-FLEX 3.0 Goes BlendEd

Responding to the demands of post-pandemic transitions, the University of the Assumption engaged its stakeholders to devise blended and hybrid educational modalities tailored to people's needs, capabilities, and technology while upholding the minimum learning competencies across programs and levels while keeping the pandemic threats at bay. The following themes were generated from the perspectives of the academic units in response to the essential questions of why and how should UA-FLEX go blended.

Restoring old ways into the new normal. UA-FLEX 3.0 brings back the tradition of social learning. Going blended is seen as the safer route of reliving the usual hands-on-minds-on teaching and learning. While we re-introduce real-world learning experiences, like those during the pre-pandemic curriculum, Online Distance Learning (ODL) and self-directed studies will remain active. This way, the faculty will have a broader range of options to deliver quality instruction.

The blended education approach enriches the learning environments so that teachers and students can be as creative as they can be in utilizing tools, training the mind, developing the skills, trying out learned theories and concepts, and evaluating learning and instruction.

The world is not going back to the pre-pandemic times. Going blended education will develop the students' versatility in dealing with their challenges and formulating solutions for their problems. Flexibility is the name of the game in becoming productive. More freedom in implementing the curriculum will engage and empower the learners to maximize their thinking and learning skills to achieve the desired study outcomes.

Starting the new-normal school year. Systematic and humane management demonstrates empathy for the stakeholders' conditions, challenges, restrictions, and feelings when reinstating a previously suspended program. Opening the university's gates to restore face-to-face and on-campus instruction will provide transitory activities for students, the faculty, and the rest of the school community. Acclimatizing the people into the new education system will prevent the same anxieties and problems experienced when on-campus learning activities were abruptly suspended in 2020.

Before immersing into the academic aspect of education, socio-emotional development and regaining confidence will lead to a fresher and more secure school year across all levels.

After a two-year hiatus, schools and colleges shall design reacquainting activities for social interaction and communal development in limited face-to-face tasks before moving forward to the academic aspect of the school. The following are some suggested tasks that may be conducted simultaneously or per-department basis. Academic units are encouraged to be resourceful and creative.

- Onsite welcoming program and orientation activities
- Campus tours, especially for new students (with engaging or interactive tasks)
- Socio-emotional learning redemptive activities
- Socio-cultural engagements

Decongesting the curriculum. Non-blended curricula are observed to be restricted to what the program requires. Course templates and syllabi edict the instructional strategies and assessment of learning. In blended education, the teachers and students, upon consensus, can modify their plans anytime in the course of study depending on the concurring conditions and the demands of the situations. For instance, a scheduled on-campus lecture may be flipped to a self-paced study during emergencies. The curriculum allows this flexibility because the teachers and students already have the capacity and ability to bend academic plans, which they experienced during the two-year pandemic.

However, in the UA-FLEX 3.0 ideals, academic units are expected to document dynamism and supervise the decongestion of the curriculum by periodically evaluating the blending of teaching and learning modalities to ensure the accomplishment of standards and minimum learning competencies.

Retrofitting the campus. The on-campus aspect of blended education requires retrofitting to comply with government protocols on health and safety and prevent students' insecurities and doubts when returning to the university. Keeping up the confidence of the stakeholders in face-to-face learning, nonetheless limited in number and movement, entails the drastic renovation of the physical plant and facilities. Retrofitting the campus with the necessary pathways, implements, disease-preventing tools, and other facilities that are compliant with or exceed the government's minimum requirements will make the stakeholders feel safe inside the campus.

Delivering blended learning. The scheduling of ODL and limited face-to-face instruction requires proportional scheduling. Despite having a common goal, the academic units still have particular circumstances that make scheduling diverse across programs and levels. UA recognizes such peculiarities. The academic departments have the upper hand in determining the conduct of curricular, co-curricular, and extra-curricular activities through the available and feasible means. Instructional and learning tasks intended for ODL, F2F, or the combination of the two will be identified before the start of the school year on a per-course or per-subject basis.

The classification of learning tasks, especially those intended for the limited face-to-face mode, shall be submitted to the Academic Council before the start of the school year or semester to streamline the schedules and control the on-campus daily crowds. Only those activities approved by the VPAA will be allowed to be conducted on-campus. However, suppose there will be urgent adjustments due to valid reasons (e.g., postponement due to natural calamities, circumstances beyond control, class suspension, and other justifiable unanticipated causes) or an unlisted activity that needs to be conducted. In that case, a letter of request by the faculty shall be submitted to the respective academic head to be approved by the VPAA.

Maximizing the limitedness of face-to-face learning. Most instruction and learning in the SY 2022-2023 will still be conducted through self-paced and ODL modes. Therefore, face-to-face modalities are limited to the minimum. In this sense, the recommended educational tasks that can be done in person are the following with a limited number of attendees (50% of the maximum capacity of the room?):

- Major written Tests (with Test Papers – Periodical, Prelim, Midterm, Final Exams)
- Performance or Practical Tests
- Trade Tests

- Demonstration
- Simulation
- Laboratory works
- Other hands-on tasks that require in-person participation

Minor written exams such as quizzes, formative assessment, diagnostics, regular class discussions, lectures, oral interactions, etc., are encouraged to be done online via the Google Workspace tools.

Academic departments are highly encouraged to coordinate face-to-face activities assigned to particular students, classes, or groups scheduled within the same day. This will prevent the students from going out of their homes more often.

Making F2F attendance optional for exceptional cases. Upon the discretion of the academic department, some students may be excused from attending the face-to-face activities for justifiable reasons, such as, but not limited to, health-related concerns, mobility restrictions, Force Majeure, etc. In this case, the absentee students shall be provided alternative tasks relevant to those done in person. To avoid irregularities, academic heads and the faculty should exhaust all means to validate the qualification of the students requesting an exemption from F2F participation. The VPAA should duly approve such an exemption.

Upholding mental health. Since UA-FLEX 3.0 is yet another transition program, the stakeholders are still vulnerable to adjustment anxieties and troubles. The Academic Council, together with the Guidance Offices on all levels, shall be closely monitoring the responses and behaviors of the teachers and students regarding the conduct of the blended education activities. Promoting mental health programs will still be conducted regularly.

Assuring quality. To ensure systematic implementation of the UA-FLEX 3.0, it is highly suggested that each academic department formulates a tactical plan that includes the teaching and learning activities are done online and face-to-face for the whole school year. The plan shall consist of the curricular activities' purposes, mechanics, deliverables, desired outcomes, and troubleshooting measures. The UA-FLEX Committee shall develop an evaluation tool derived from the plans to monitor implementation and be able to provide support and assistance to the academic departments.

Towards this end, all forms of sexual harassment in the employment, education or training environmental are hereby declared unlawful.

It is the duty of the employer to prescribe the guidelines on proper decorum in the workplace and educational institution, and to provide the procedures for the resolution, settlement or prosecution of said acts.

Section 2. School Policy. One objective of the University of the Assumption (UA) is to foster an open learning and working environment. This implies its obligation to provide an environment that is free from sexual harassment and from fear that it may occur. Since the entire academic community suffers when sexual harassment takes place, it is the declared policy of UA that sexual harassment is unacceptable behavior and a violation of the law and shall never be tolerated or condoned.

Violations of these policies shall result in disciplinary action, including but not limited to expulsion or termination as the case may be, without prejudice to criminal prosecution.

All members of the UA community affected by or involved in a sexual harassment incident shall be treated with respect and given full opportunity to present their side of the incident.

Considering the delicate nature of such incidents and possible misconceptions and apprehensions, the University shall accord the respondents as much respect as the complaint, by ensuring confidentiality and due process in the investigation of the case and by punishing those who commit damaging intrigue, perjury or those who are found to have made false accusations.

PART II: DEFINITION OF TERMS

Section 1. School Personnel - this refers to all persons working for UA, and includes the following:

1. Teaching Staff – actually engaged in the teaching service;
2. School Administrators – the school head or the chief operating officer of a school or in general, those who are duly appointed to (and occupying) a position of responsibility involved in both policy-formulation and implementation;

3. Academic Non-Teaching Personnel – any employee possessing certain prescribed academic functions directly supportive of teaching, such as librarians, guidance counselors, researchers, and the like.
4. Non-Academic Personnel – any employee who does not fall under the definition and coverage of teaching staff, administrators and academic non-teaching personnel.

The University shall be considered both as a place of study and a place of work

Section 2. Sexual Harassment – Sexual harassment is committed by an employer, agent of the employer, manager, supervisor, employee, instructor, coach, trainor or any other person who – having authority, influence, moral ascendancy or physical superiority over another in a work/educational environment - demands, requests or requires any sexual favor from another, whether or not the other person accepts the demand, request or requirement. Forms of sexual harassment include:

- a. unwelcomed sexual advances;
- b. repeated sexually-oriented kidding, teasing, joking or flirting;
- c. verbal abuse of a sexual nature;
- d. graphic commentary about an individual's body, sexual prowess or sexual deficiencies;
- e. leering, whistling, touching, pinching or brushing against another's body;
- f. displaying objects or pictures which are sexual in nature that would create a hostile or offensive environment;
- g. serious physical abuse such as sexual assault and rape;
- h. persistent and unwanted attempts to change education or professional relationship to a personal or intimate one.

Section 3. When Sexual Harassment is Committed.

In a school-as-a-place-of-study setting, sexual harassment is committed:

1. against one who is under the care, custody or supervision of the offender;
2. against one whose education, training, apprenticeship or tutorship of the victim is entrusted to the offender.
3. the sexual favor is made a condition to the giving of a passing grade, or the granting of honors and/or scholarship, or the payment of a stipend, allowance, or other benefits, privileges or consideration; and,
4. the sexual advances result in an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment for the student/trainee/apprentice.

In a school-as-place-of-work setting, sexual harassment is committed when:

1. the sexual favor is made as a condition in the hiring or in the employment, re-employment or continued employment of the victim;
2. the sexual favor leads to the granting of favorable compensation, terms, conditions, promotions or privileges;

3. the refusal to grant the sexual favors results in the limiting, segregating or classifying the employee in a way that will discriminate, deprive or diminish employment opportunities or otherwise adversely affect said employee;
4. the sexual favor or its refusal impairs the employee's rights or privileges under existing Labor laws; and,
5. the sexual favor or its refusal results in an intimidating, hostile or offensive environmental for the employee.

Sexual harassment can be verbal, visual or physical. It can be overt, as in the suggestion that a person could get a higher grade or a salary increase by submission to sexual advances. The suggesting need not be direct or explicit; it can be implied from the conduct, circumstances and relationship of the person involved.

Section 4. Offenders. Offenders may be those who have authority, influence, or moral ascendancy over another. Students committing sexual offenses will be charged as per provisions of the Student Manual.

Section 5. Other Persons Liable. Any person who directs or induces another to commit or succumb to any act of sexual harassment, or who cooperates in the commission of the act, shall also be held liable under these Rules. Their penalties will be determined by the extent and nature of their involvement.

Section 6. Classification of Sexual Harassment Cases. Sexual harassment cases are classified as follows:

1. grave – when the granting of the sexual favor or its refusal is used as the basis for employment decisions, or impairs the employee's rights under the Labor Code, or is made the basis of giving of passing grades, granting of honors and/or scholarships, or the payment of a stipend, allowance or other benefits, privileges or consideration; or when the offender has threatened the victim in a manner as to justifiably prevent the latter from filing the complaint;
2. less grave
3. light– When the sexual conduct, sexual favor or its refusal interferes with a person's job performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment, the sexual harassment case is classified as grave, less grave or light depending on the standards of the University, the circumstances surrounding the case and the findings of the Anti-Sexual Harassment Board as hereinafter defined.

Section 7. Sanction. The following administrative sanctions shall be imposed:

1. For grave cases – dismissal from work;
2. For less grave cases – suspension from work without pay for a period of from one month and a day to three (3) months; and
3. For light cases – reprimand and warning to suspension of from one day to one month.

Section 8. Sanctions Not a Bar to Court Action or Other Actions.

Administrative sanctions shall not be a bar to prosecution in the proper courts. Any offense not falling hereunder may be referred to other school authorities for proper action.

Section 9. Harassment Outside the Campus. The University and the Anti-Sexual Harassment Board herein defined shall take cognizance of sexual harassment cases committed by the members of its community outside the campus and beyond classroom and office hours if the sexual favor falls under Section 3 hereof.

PART III: ANTI-SEXUAL HARASSMENT BOARD

Section 1. Anti-Sexual Harassment Board and its Functions. An Anti-Sexual Harassment Board is hereby created. The Board shall conduct orientation, as the case may be, for employees, faculty, coaches, students, etc. to increase understanding and prevent incidents of sexual harassment. It shall also conduct the investigation of alleged cases. The Board may form a Committee to initially determine if submitted cases merit investigation. The Committee may refer to the Board of Discipline, the Grievance Committee or the Anti-Sexual Harassment Board depending on the nature of the offense.

Section 2. Composition of the Board. The Board shall be composed of representatives of the different sectors of the University as follows:

In a school-as-a-place-of-study setting:

Chairperson: Vice-President for Academic Affairs

Members: Student Affairs Director
Human Resource Development Director
Campus Ministry Director
A Faculty Member (appointed by the University President)
A Non-Teaching Personnel (appointed by the University President)
A Student Leader/Representative

In a school-as-place-of-work setting:

Chairperson: Vice-President for Administration

Members: Human Resource Development Director
Campus Ministry Director
President of the Malayang Organisasyon ng mga Kawani at Kaguruan sa Assumption
An Academic Chair (appointed by the University President)
A Coordinator (appointed by the University President)
A Faculty Member/Non-Teaching Personnel (appointed by the University President)

PART IV: GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

Section 1. Right to Due Process. No disciplinary sanction shall be applied upon any respondent except for cause, and after due process shall have been observed. The respondent must be afforded confidentiality during the proceedings. "Due process" means:

1. The alleged offender is informed in writing of the accusation against him;
2. He is given the chance to answer the charges against him, with the assistance of counsel if desired;
3. He is informed of the evidence against him;
4. He is given the chance to present evidence on his own behalf;
5. All the evidences are considered by the Committee.

Section 2. Written Complaint. The complaint must be in writing, under oath and must contain the following information:

1. The name(s) and address(es) of the complainant/s;
2. The name(s) of the respondent(s);
3. Narration of incident (when, where, how);
4. The name(s) of witness(es), if any;
5. Attachment of pertinent records or documents in support of the complaint

The complaint must be filed with the Board Chairperson within two years from the commission of the offense or from the time the threat ceases.

Section 3. Furnishing Respondent with Complaint. The Board shall immediately furnish the offender a copy of the complaint and all its attachments, and shall direct him to submit an answer and accompanying documents within ten (10) days from receipt thereof. The Board shall schedule the hearing on a date immediately after the given period.

Section 4. When Victim is a Minor. When the offended party is a minor, the parents or any adult school personnel may file the complaint for the minor.

Section 5. Failure to Answer. If offender fails to answer in writing and under oath and submit documents (within ten days from receipt of the complaint), or fails to appear during the conference, the offender shall be deemed to have waived his right to present his evidence and the case shall be heard in his absence.

Section 6. Confidentiality. The Board should make every effort to maintain confidentiality.

Section 7. "Reasonable Man/Woman" Standard. In view of the fact that the perception of men and women may differ as to what constitutes harmless fun on one hand and offensive conduct on the other hand, the Board shall adopt a "reasonable man/woman" rather than a "reasonable person" standard to determine whether the act is unwelcome and sufficiently pervasive to constitute sexual harassment. Under this standard, the proper focus is on the victim's perspective of the given act. Thus, in a typical case, a sexual harassment complaint is proven if a reasonable man or a reasonable woman would consider the act hostile or offensive.

Section 8. Liability of the Employer or Head of Office/University. The employer or head of office/university shall be solidarily liable for damages arising from the acts of sexual harassment committed on campus if the employer or head of office/university is informed of such acts by the offended party and no action is taken thereon within ten (10) calendar days from receipt of the complaint.

Section 9. Written Records. Written records of cases of sexual harassment must be kept and treated with confidentiality. Therefore the public should have no access to them except upon order of the court. All records shall be kept by the Board Secretariat.

Section 10. Procedures. The procedures will be summary. The offender cannot invoke cross-examination as a matter of right but may be allowed to ask clarificatory questions if deemed necessary by the Board. If, in the motu proprio opinion of the Board, no hearing is necessary then it shall issue an order to the effect and declare the case submitted for resolution.

PART V: MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Section 1. Preventive Suspension of Accused. Any respondent may be placed immediately under preventive suspension without pay for a period not exceeding thirty (30) days.

Section 2. Incriminating Innocent Persons. Any member of the academic community, who shall, by perjury, incriminate or impute to an innocent person the commission of a sexual harassment act shall be meted appropriate penalty by the Board.

Section 3. Separability Clause. If any part or provisions of the Act or any of these implementing rules and regulations be held invalid or unconstitutional, it shall not affect the effectivity and implementation of its remaining part or provisions.

Section 4. Repealing Clause. Any rules and regulations, order and policies of the University which are inconsistent with any provisions of the Act or with any of these implementing rules and regulations, are hereby deemed repealed or modified, as the case may be.

Section 5. Effectivity. These Rules and Regulations shall take effect fifteen (15) days after publication and posting by the Board.

PRAYERSTHE ANGELUS

The Angel of the Lord declared unto Mary.
And she conceived by the Holy Spirit.
Hail Mary ...

Behold the handmaid of the Lord.
Be it done unto me according to your word.
Hail Mary ...

And the Word was made flesh.
And dwelt among us.
Hail Mary ...

Pray for us, O Holy Mother of God.
That we may be made worthy of the promises of Christ.

Pour forth, we beseech you, O Lord, your grace into our hearts,
that we to whom the incarnation of Christ your Son was made known by the message of an angel, may by his passion and cross be brought to the glory of his resurrection;
through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.

ACT OF ENTRUSTMENT TO OUR LADY ASSUMED INTO HEAVEN

O Holy and glorious Virgin Mary
Our Queen Assumed into heaven,
We cherish you with a special love.
We place ourselves under
Your care, our being, or families, our university and our country.
May we please You,
O Queen and mother,
With our zeal in prayer and patient
Perseverance
in work and in studies.
Keep watch over us
And turn your eyes full of mercy toward the whole world.
Amen.

PRAYER FOR STUDY

Grant, Lord, to all students to love and know that which is worth knowing to praise that which please you most,
to value that which is precious to you,
and to dislike whatsoever is evil in your eyes.
Let your blessing, Lord, rest upon our work this day.
Teach us to seek after truth and enable us to attain it;
but grant that, as we increase in the knowledge of earthly things, we may increase in the knowledge of you;
for to know you is eternal life and happiness.
Amen

PRAYER BEFORE AN EXAMINATION

O God, we are about to have our exams.
I have studied hard, but I am sure
I haven't learned enough and I cannot always remember what I've learned.

Help me keep calm and not to be worried,
so I'll remember what I've learned and do my best.
Then if I fail, I need not be ashamed; and if I pass, please help me not to boast but give my thanks to you for helping me to use the gifts which you have given.
Thank you, God.
Amen.

STUDENT'S PRAYER

Almighty God, the Origin of Life, thank you for creating me and endowing me with numerous gifts, talents, and skills.
You know how important my studies are to me and so I humbly come before you to ask for your gracious help and divine assistance.

Source of Wisdom and Truth, enlighten my mind and help me to think clearly that I may be neither careless nor overconfident.
Help me concentrate and keep me from getting distracted.
Confident of your help, I will be at ease;
I will be able to do my best.

Grant me the grace to be kind with words,
modest in my gestures, prudent in my actions,
graceful with my examples, and moral in my decisions.

With your help, I can do everything well and get the best results.
Please be with me today that I may always use my knowledge to promote what is moral and good and to live up to the vision of this University.

I also pray that You inspire my teachers that they be responsible and thoughtful, as well as tireless in guiding and assisting me and my classmates.

I will always be grateful to You and to all those who are instrumental in helping me get an excellent education.
Now I offer everything back to You in good works that will bring you glory. Amen

Mary, Assumed into Heaven...
Pray for us

MEMORARE

Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known, that anyone who fled to your protection, implored your help,
or sought your intercession was left unaided.
Inspired by this confidence, we fly unto you,
O Virgin of virgins, our Mother!
To you we come, before you we stand sinful and sorrowful.
O mother of the World incarnate, despise not our petitions, but in your mercy hear and answer us.

Amen
